An internal Ontario government policy paper leaked to the Toronto Star sets out the removal of $200 million from the provincial budget for regulated child care (currently approximately $470 million which includes funding for regulated child care and family resource programs). The policy paper then proposes three options for the remaining $270 million. The cuts to the child care budget and the proposed options have significant impact on regulated child care, nursery schools and family resource programs in Ontario.

This issue file collects documents related to this policy development.
