

Make gender inequality history ^[1]

Recommendations from the Gender Equality Advisory Council for Canada's G7 Presidency

Author: Gender Equality Advisory Council

Source:

Format: Report

Publication Date: 3 Jun 2018

AVAILABILITY

Full report PDF ^[2]

Introduction

We, the Gender Equality Advisory Council, know that everyone benefits when girls and women¹ are safe, healthy, educated, heard, and empowered to make decisions about their own lives. But gender inequality persists in every society, and progress for girls and women remains too slow, uneven, and subject to reversal. Today, G7 leaders have a unique opportunity to respond to the growing movements of girls and women raising their voices around the world with concrete commitments, new investments and measurable targets to advance gender equality. We call on G7 leaders to adopt and implement the recommendations in our full report, including those set out in the following pages.

Related link:

Region: International ^[3]

Source URL (modified on 27 Jan 2022): <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/research-policy-practice/18/06/make-gender-inequality-history>

Links

[1] <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/research-policy-practice/18/06/make-gender-inequality-history> ^[2]

<http://www.g8.utoronto.ca/summit/2018charlevoix/Recommendations-by-the-Gender-Equality-Advisory-Council.pdf> ^[3]

<https://childcarecanada.org/category/region/international>