The OECD's latest edition of Education at a Glance reviews pertinent data pertaining to educational systems and social outcomes in OECD countries. An examination of Canadian women's educational attainment and earnings compared to those of Canadian men (see Country note: Canada) and a review of ECEC systems worldwide (see pg. 162-178 of the full report) are highlights. Canadian data are missing from many tables.

Description

Education at a Glance: OECD Indicators is the authoritative source for information on the state of education around the world. It provides data on the structure, finances and performance of education systems in OECD and partner countries. With more than 100 charts and tables, Education at a Glance 2018 imparts key information on the output of educational institutions, the impact of learning across countries, and worldwide access, participation and progression in education. It also investigates the financial resources invested in education, as well as teachers, the learning environment and the organisation of schools.
