

Wellington County looking for comments on childcare ^[1]

Author: Mackay, Janice

Source: Blackburn News

Format: Article

Publication Date: 28 Oct 2018

AVAILABILITY

Read online ^[2]

EXCERPTS

Wellington County is looking for input into child care services and parenting support across the region.

Monday night, residents in Mapleton will get a chance to talk about the options available.

There's another meeting set for tomorrow morning at the Harriston Library, from 10:30 a.m. until noon.

Next week, residents in Mount Forest will get an update at the Child Care and Learning Centre on Monday evening. On Thursday, November 8, there will be a morning session at the Arthur Library.

And on November 12, the Palmerston residents will get a turn to talk about childcare.

Related link:

Region: Ontario ^[3]

Tags: community consultation ^[4]

Source URL (modified on 27 Jan 2022): <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/child-care-news/18/10/wellington-county-looking-comments-childcare>
Links

[1] <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/child-care-news/18/10/wellington-county-looking-comments-childcare> [2]

<https://blackburnnews.com/midwestern-ontario/midwestern-ontario-news/2018/10/29/wellington-county-looks-comments-childcare-minto-wellington-north-mapleton/> [3] <https://childcarecanada.org/taxonomy/term/7856> [4] <https://childcarecanada.org/category/tags/community-consultation>