2020 is a significant moment for the YWCA Canada federation. As we mark our 150th anniversary, it's a moment to reflect on the work we've done as a movement over the generations and across the country. Many people in our movement want to know how to engage in collective advocacy to advance gender equity and a feminist economic recovery in Canada. To learn and exchange knowledge, YWCA Canada will be hosting a thought-provoking panel discussion with advocacy leaders from across Canada to share lessons and promising practices.
