

Managing illness in child care ^[1]

Author: Hempel, Rosanna

Source: Global News

Format: Video

Publication Date: 29 Aug 2022

AVAILABILITY

Watch online [1:53] ^[2]

EXCERPTS

Some things are heading back to normal even as COVID-19 remains on our radar. But for early learning and childcare centres and parents, this means having to navigate questions surrounding symptoms as respiratory virus season is just around the corner. Rosanna Hempel reports.

Region: Manitoba ^[3]

Tags: child care ^[4]

COVID-19 ^[5]

health and safety ^[6]

Source URL (modified on 30 Aug 2022): <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/child-care-news/22/08/managing-illness-child-care>

Links

[1] <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/child-care-news/22/08/managing-illness-child-care> [2] <https://globalnews.ca/video/9093609/managing-illness-in-child-care> [3] <https://childcarecanada.org/taxonomy/term/7857> [4] <https://childcarecanada.org/category/tags/child-care> [5] <https://childcarecanada.org/taxonomy/term/9040> [6] <https://childcarecanada.org/category/tags/health-and-safety>