These career fairs are open to the general public to network, apply for positions, learn more about careers in the child care sector, and gather information for friends and family who may be interested in a career in child care.

The WorkPlace will be present to provide employment-related supports and discuss potential free training opportunities.

These are drop-in events, and no pre-registration is required if attending in-person. If you are unable to attend, you can complete an online form to receive more information about open positions. You can find more information about the events on the Lambton County Children's Services Workforce Development Facebook page.
