Canada's Children...Canada's Future 2002 is a follow-up to the Canada's Children...Canada's Future Conference held in 1996.

This national conference will attract a diverse audience of more than 1,000 human service professionals interested in the welfare and well-being of children.

This is the third national conference and is organized to:

- raise awareness of the state of Canada's children and youth;
- present the latest thinking about working with children and highlight best practices and innovative programming to support and strengthen children and families.
