

Child care: the missing piece to the early years ^[1]

Contact phone: 416-392-3182

Details

The City of Toronto's Children and Youth Action Committee presents its 2002 summit aimed to increase awareness of the role that child care plays in the early years project.

Summit Description:

With 15,000 children on waiting lists, child care continues to be a priority for the City of Toronto. Despite federal investment to the early years, no new money has been directed to child care. How do we move forward?

Paul Steinhauer Address:

* Hon. Margaret Norrie McCain

- Co-author of the Early Years Study, and the Early Years Study 3 years later
- Co-Chair of the Commission on Early Learning and Child Care for the City of Toronto

Also featuring:

* Charles Coffey

- Executive Vice President, Government and Community Affairs, Royal Bank of Canada Financial Group

* David Crane

- Economics Editor, The Toronto Star

* Cynthia Mulligan

- Education Specialist, City Pulse News

* Fiona Nelson

- CYAC Member and former Toronto School Board Trustee

* Councillor Olivia Chow

- Children's Advocate (Moderator)

To register, please call 416-392-3182 by Tuesday, October 22, 2002.

Source URL (modified on 7 Aug 2020): <https://childcarecanada.org/resources/events/child-care-missing-piece-early-years>

Links

[1] <https://childcarecanada.org/resources/events/child-care-missing-piece-early-years>