

Union protests planned for National Assembly [CA-QC] ^[1]

Source: Canada Broadcast News

Format: Article

Publication Date: 26 Oct 2003

AVAILABILITY

See text below.

EXCERPTS

Quebec city - Thousands of union members are in Quebec City today for the start of what's billed as the largest labour convention in Canada.

The week-long biannual convention of the Canadian Union of Public Employees will see the election of a new president.

Delegates will also gather at the National Assembly to protest the Charest government's plan to end Quebec's five-dollar-a-day child care program.

- reprinted from Canada Broadcast News

Region: Quebec ^[2]

Source URL (modified on 27 Jan 2022): <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/child-care-news/03/11/union-protests-planned-national-assembly-ca-qc>
Links

[1] <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/child-care-news/03/11/union-protests-planned-national-assembly-ca-qc> [2]

<https://childcarecanada.org/taxonomy/term/7855>