

Quality information for a quality early childhood care and development ^[1]

UNESCO Policy Brief on Early Childhood, no. 25

Author: Williams, J.R.A.

Source: United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation

Format: Fact sheet

Publication Date: 1 Jul 2004

AVAILABILITY

Policy brief in pdf ^[2]

Abstract:

This Policy Brief discusses the Child-focused or Community-based Education Management System, or C-EMIS, developed by Save the Children UK as a new approach to collecting and using data for planning and action. C-EMIS endeavours to include all children, both in and out of school, to provide a structure for data collecting at the very lowest level (from children on doorsteps) and to promote its use by local stakeholders.

Related link: Index of UNESCO policy briefs ^[3]

Source URL (modified on 27 Jan 2022): <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/research-policy-practice/06/10/quality-information-quality-early-childhood-care-and>

Links
[1] <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/research-policy-practice/06/10/quality-information-quality-early-childhood-care-and> [2]
<http://unesdoc.unesco.org/images/0013/001374/137414e.pdf> [3] <http://www.unesco.org/education/ecf/briefs/>