Pedagogical Connections is a publication of the Unit for Child Care Research and Professional Development (UCCR). Located within the School of Child and Youth Care at the University of Victoria, the UCCR was created in the early 1990s to provide services and resources to organizations, agencies, individuals, communities and governments in the areas of early childhood care and education.

This issue of Pedagogical Connections features an overview of the Early Learning Framework Implementation Project and a summary of Forum #1: International Perspectives on Indigenous Early Childhood Care and Development held at the University of Victoria on February 26, 2006.
