Details

MacEwan's annual childcare conference brings together child care professionals from the Edmonton area, the province of Alberta and neighboring provinces.

The goal of this event is to provide professional and personal development in areas related to ages and stages of child development; issues faced by administrators and caregivers: improving children's learning environment; encouraging physical, cognitive and intellectual development; promoting emotional and social well being of children; developing relationships with parents, community and other stakeholders and programming ideas for specific age groups.

The conference has an annual attendance of approximately 350 delegates.
