

Pedagogical connections: Issue 6, Fall 2010^[1]

Author: Unit for Early Learning and Child Care Research. School of Child and Youth Care. University of Victoria.

Source: Unit for Early Learning and Child Care Research. School of Child and Youth Care. University of Victoria.

Format: Periodical

Publication Date: 1 Nov 2010

AVAILABILITY

Newsletter in pdf^[2]

Description:

Pedagogical Connections is a publication of the Unit for Early Learning and Child Care Research (the Unit). Located within the School of Child and Youth Care at the University of Victoria, the Unit was created in the early 1990s to provide services and resources to organizations, agencies, individuals, communities and governments in the areas of early childhood care and education.

In this issue:

- Message from the directors
- Upcoming early childhood events
- Upcoming UVic early childhood courses
- Flows, rhythms and intensities in ECE curriculum
- IQ project learning & sharing circles
- Changes at the Unit
- Highlighting past events
- Recent and upcoming publications

Region: Canada^[3]

Tags: diversity^[4]

Source URL (modified on 27 Jan 2022): <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/research-policy-practice/10/11/pedagogical-connections-issue-6-fall-2010>
Links

[1] <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/research-policy-practice/10/11/pedagogical-connections-issue-6-fall-2010> [2] <http://www.uvic.ca/hsd/cyc> [3] <https://childcarecanada.org/taxonomy/term/7864> [4] <https://childcarecanada.org/category/tags/diversity>