

Province needs child care plan ^[1]

Letter to the Editor

Author: Ferns, Carolyn

Source: Toronto Star

Format: Article

Publication Date: 15 Dec 2011

Re: Big-box child care buys Ontario centres ^[2]

Education Minister Laurel Broten says she won't declare a moratorium on new for-profit child care because some communities don't have any non-profit providers. The minister can't just throw up her hands and declare it's up to the market.

If Ontario had a real plan for child care, municipal centres wouldn't be gutted. If Ontario had a real plan for child care there would be planning in place that ensured decent access for families across the province.

If Ontario had a real child-care system, big box companies wouldn't be able to take advantage.

Carolyn Ferns, Toronto

- reprinted from the Toronto Star

Region: Ontario ^[3]

Tags: privatization ^[4]

Source URL (modified on 27 Jan 2022): <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/child-care-news/11/12/province-needs-child-care-plan>

Links

[1] <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/child-care-news/11/12/province-needs-child-care-plan> [2] <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/child-care-news/11/12/big-box-child-care-buys-ontario-centres> [3] <https://childcarecanada.org/taxonomy/term/7856> [4] <https://childcarecanada.org/category/tags/privatization>