

Deconstructing Drummond ^[1]

Author: various

Source: Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives

Publication Date: 22 Feb 2012

AVAILABILITY

Deconstructing Drummond website and resources ^[2]

Description:

In response to the February 15 Commission on the Reform of Ontario's Public Services report - widely referred to as the Drummond report after its author, retired banker Don Drummond - the Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives hosted a public meeting, entitled Deconstructing Drummond, in Toronto to examine the 362 recommendations within the report.

The event drew a packed house, with an audience representing the full spectrum of civil society - all concerned about the harmful effects an austerity agenda could have on the economy and on the people of Ontario.

CCPA Research Associates - economists Hugh Mackenzie and Jim Stanford - presented their analysis of the report's fiscal and economic projections.

Analyses from additional CCPA Research Associates are also provided.

Related Links:

Can austerity create prosperity and address inequality? ^[3], Maytree Foundation, 27 Feb 12

The Drummond Commission recommendations on immigration (and the missed opportunities to address immigrant children/families) ^[4], immigrantchildren.ca, 22 Feb 12

Efficiency and evidence-based practice in early childhood education and care: CRRU's analysis of the ECEC recommendations in the Drummond report ^[5], Childcare Resource and Research Unit, 17 Feb 12

Region: Ontario ^[6]

Tags: budget ^[7]

economics ^[8]

Source URL (modified on 27 Jan 2022): <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/research-policy-practice/12/02/deconstructing-drummond>
Links

[1] <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/research-policy-practice/12/02/deconstructing-drummond> ^[2]

<http://www.policyalternatives.ca/taxonomy/term/4> ^[3] <https://maytree.com/blog/2012/02/can-austerity-create-prosperity-and-address-inequality/> ^[4]

<http://immigrantchildren.ca/2012/02/22/the-drummond-commission-recommendations-on-immigration-and-the-missed-opportunities-to-address-immigrant-childrenfamilies/> ^[5] <https://childcarecanada.org/documents/research-policy-practice/12/02/efficiency-and-evidence-based-practice-early-childhood-educ> ^[6]

<https://childcarecanada.org/taxonomy/term/7856> ^[7] <https://childcarecanada.org/category/tags/budget> ^[8]

<https://childcarecanada.org/category/tags/economics>