The Universal Child Care Benefit (UCCB) expansion

This collection organizes news and analysis to inform about the federal government's expansion of the Universal Child Care Benefit. The UCCB, initiated by the Harper government in 2006, was substantially increased January 2015. The expansion money for January-July was sent to parents on July 20 in the form of a substantial cheque.

Community response:

- Child Care Advocacy Association of Canada ^[2]

"With the cost of child care upwards of $1200 a month, parents know that their benefit cheque is a drop in the bucket...If sending out the money months before an election is a way to buy parents to the side of the Conservatives, it is not going to work. Parents need real help in the form of affordable quality child care spaces."
