Skolverket. Swedish National Agency for Education ^[1]

Skolverket is the central administrative authority for the Swedish public school system including the preschool and school-age child care systems. Skolverket ensures that national targets for child care and the school system are achieved through development, research and evaluation. Skolverket's extensive English language website provides a wealth of information on the Swedish ECEC system.

Sweden. Ministry of Education and Research ^[2]

The Ministry of Education and Research is responsible for matters regarding education, including pre-school education and child care for school children, pre-school classes and compulsory education.
