KINDERGARTEN SERVICES

Kindergarten
Kindergarten is delivered in public schools under regional school operations. It is available to all five year olds in Nunavut on a half-day basis. There is a requirement for no less than 485 hours and no more than 6 hours/day instructional hours per year. The District Education Authorities in each community determine hours of attendance.
Kindergarten is not compulsory in Nunavut. Access is legislated and it is an entitlement.

AGE ELIGIBILITY

*The Nunavut Act, S.C. 1993, c.28 as amended brought Nunavut into being on April 1, 1999. Laws passed by the Government of the Northwest Territories before this period were inherited by the Government of Nunavut upon its creation. The Government of Nunavut is in the process of developing its own education legislation.

Most kindergarten teachers have a B.Ed. or Letter of Authority.

CLASSROOM ASSISTANTS

There is no territorial policy regarding training for assistants. Student Support Assistants (SSA) enable a child with special needs to have access to the program with children of his or her age group. There are no qualification requirements but there is a certificate program that may be offered in the community as an on-the-job series of courses. The courses are linked to the teacher education program. Many SSAs are included in school professional development activities. All SSAs are unionized under the Nunavut Employees Union.

Starting wage (2006): $44,811 to $50,856

CURRICULUM

An Elders Advisory Committee in Nunavut works with educators to define knowledge, skills and values from an Inuit perspective to be taught in Nunavut schools at all levels. This information is combined with curriculum frameworks from the Western and Northern Curriculum Protocol partnership. Input from the Elders is being used to develop teaching resources and learning materials for kindergarten classes in Nunavut schools.

MONITORING AND ASSESSMENT

Kindergarten programs are monitored by school principals and the Superintendent of Schools as part of teacher evaluation.

SOURCES OF FUNDING FOR KINDERGARTEN

Sources of funding for school boards: Government of Nunavut. The French District Education authority has access to federal funding.

There are no private schools in Nunavut.

There are no fees for participation in kindergarten.

SPECIAL FEATURES

Instruction in Inuktitut is provided from kindergarten to Grade 3. A transition to English in Grade 4 with some Inuktitut follows from that point on. (It should be noted that 95% of the children have a first language other than English or French).

Language of Instruction Policy: The goal is to graduate functionally bilingual (Inuktitut/English) students. Cabinet has agreed on instructional models and is working on a strategy for implementation so that Inuktitut is taught throughout the system.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

The French Language School in Iqaluit is carrying out a three year pilot program of full-day everyday kindergarten. The 2006/07 school year marked the 2nd year of the program.

Maximum number of children permitted: Four, including the caregiver’s own children up to 12 years

REGULATED CHILD CARE

After-school care
Care outside school hours for school-aged children up to and including 11 years of age

Family day homes
Care in a private home for up to eight children under 12 years (including the caregiver’s own children)

CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL NEEDS

There are no segregated child care programs for children with special needs.

Care providers are funded to provide extra support for children with special needs through the daily operating grants which are based on the age of the child and the area in which the centre is located. The operating grant for a preschool child is increased by approximately 50% for a child with an identified special need and is an entitlement.

In order for the centre to receive the additional funding for a child, a letter from a recognized health care professional is required. In addition, centres may apply for funding to the Healthy Children’s Initiative for adaptive equipment or for a one-on-one worker if necessary.

Parents are eligible for fee subsidy for their children with special needs even if they are not employed or at school. This subsidy eligibility requires a financial needs assessment to be applied and parents must have a medical referral from a recognized health care professional for the child to be in developmental care.

ABORIGINAL CHILD CARE

Since 1996, the First Nations and Inuit Child Care Initiative (FNICCI) has provided capital and start-up funding for the development of approximately 20 centres in what is now Nunavut. There is an Aboriginal Human Resource Development Strategy (AHRDS) regional office in each of Nunavut’s three regions. Each regional AHRDS office took on the responsibility for the delivery and administration of the Inuit Childcare Program in their Region, established with FNICCI funding.

In addition to providing capital funding for new child care centres, all child care centres, with the exception of the seven Aboriginal Head Start programs, receive block funding from their AHRDS office, which may also provide one-time funding for repairs and renovations, and for developing or acquiring culturally relevant program materials. In addition, the AHRDS may provide wage subsidies based on the number of Inuit staff in a centre and fee subsidies to Land-Claim Beneficiary parents that is in addition to the regular fee subsidy funded through Early Childhood Services. AHRDS offices have also provided funding for training in each region, including the delivery of ECE training through Arctic College.

The federal Inuit Childcare Program spends approximately $3 million/year on child care in Nunavut.

In April 1999, the federal government launched the Aboriginal Human Resource Development Strategy (AHRDS) within Human Resources Development Canada (HRDC). Each of the HRDC regions entered into an Aboriginal Human Resources Development Agreement with various Aboriginal organizations across Canada.

Parent involvement
The legislation requires non-profit programs whose boards of directors do not have a minimum of 51% parent members to have a parent committee with a minimum of 51% parent members.

Licensing, monitoring and enforcement
Licences are granted for one year. Annual inspections of all regulated child care centres are conducted by an Early Childhood Officer from the Department of Education, the Public Health Department, and the Fire Marshall’s office. It is recommended that the Early Childhood Officer have a background in early childhood education.

REGULATED FAMILY CHILD CARE
Regulation
Individually licensed

Maximum capacity
Maximum of eight children under 12 years (including the provider’s children). No more than six of the eight children may be five years or under, no more than three children may be under three years, and no more than two children may be under two years.

Provider qualification requirements
A provider must be a minimum of 19 years of age and have a first-aid certificate. There are no early childhood training requirements.

Licensing, monitoring and enforcement
Homes are visited at least once a year by staff from the Early Childhood Program and a representative from each of the Public Health Department and the Fire Marshall’s office.

FUNDING
CHILD CARE SUBSIDY PROGRAM
Fee subsidies may be used in both regulated and unregulated child care. Subsidies are paid directly to service providers on behalf of eligible parents if the child care is a regulated service, unless the child care centre requests that the subsidies be paid directly to the parent. In the case of unregulated care, the subsidy is paid to the parent and is based on an attendance report signed by the child care provider. Parents may apply for subsidy in person, by mail or fax.

The regular subsidy program is considered to be part of the income support program.

The intention of the subsidy program is to provide assistance for the parent to work or take part in a training program. Eligibility is determined by a needs assessment, which takes into consideration parent costs and family size as well as income. An unregulated provider may be a relative of a parent of the child being subsidized.

There is no minimum user fee and programs may surcharge subsidized parents.

Eligibility for day care user subsidy
Eligibility varies with clients’ actual housing, utility and child care costs, plus social assistance rates for food and clothing. To be eligible for a fee subsidy, parents must be working, attending school or a training program, or have a child with a special need, for whom child care is recommended by a recognized health care professional.

In Nunavut, an individual must be 18 or older to receive income support, the vehicle through which child care subsidies are provided.

A needs assessment is applied so there is no set break-even point.

YOUNG PARENTS STAY LEARNING PROGRAM
Parents must be under the age of 18 and attending school. Eligibility does not require a needs test. The parent must use regulated child care. The maximum rates are the same as the regular subsidy rates. The parent’s school attendance records are sent to the Early Childhood Officer along with the child’s attendance records. There is an expectation that the parent will be attending school unless they are ill or have an excused absence. Parents may apply for subsidy in person, by mail or fax.

ADMINISTRATION

The Adult Education, Career and Early Childhood Services Division of the Department of Education is responsible for the development of standards, the regulation of child care services, contributions to child care programs and the development of a territorial child care system. Four Early Childhood Officers within the three regions of Nunavut are responsible for licensing and monitoring child care programs. The Income Support Division of the Department of Education is responsible for the administration of fee subsidy. Early Childhood
Officers are required to have an ECE diploma and experience working in a child care centre, or equivalent qualifications. In practice, however, filling the positions with qualified staff is often not possible.

MUNICIPAL AND OTHER LOCAL GOVERNMENT ROLE

Child care programs may be under the auspice of District Education Authorities who may hold the license.

CHILD CARE PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT

There is no territorial plan for the development of child care. New centres must complete a needs assessment before they are eligible to apply for start-up funding.

HISTORY OF CHILD CARE AND OTHER ECEC SERVICES

Note: Before Nunavut was established in 1999, it was part of the Northwest Territories (NT).

1971 First child care centre to receive territorial government funding was opened in Iqaluit (then known as Frobisher Bay). It taught children in both English and Inuktitut syllabics and had four Inuit child care workers.

1970s Child care centres set up at the instigation of parents and community members. Funding was generally through the federal government. Local Initiative Project (LIP) grants with some user subsidy for parents in need from the Territorial government were used.

1974 The Policy Respecting Day Care Services noted that while numerous child care services were in operation, only two were receiving operational financial support from the Territory (the original centre in Iqaluit and a second centre in Yellowknife).

1976 The Territory finalized a policy on fee subsidies for child care centres, family day care, and after-school programs.

1980 The Territory adopted the Policy Respecting Subsidized Day Care in the Northwest Territories which considered costs and income to determine eligibility for subsidization of children in unregulated child care.

1983 Establishment of the Northwest Territories Child Care Association which circulated voluntary standards for child care centres.

1985 The territorial government hired a Day Care Consultant to review child care issues and make recommendations.

1988 The NT government enacted its first child care legislation, the Northwest Territories Child Day Care Act. The Advisory Council on the Status of Women released a policy paper on child care, Position Paper on Child Care, which outlined a comprehensive program to develop a system of child care services.

The first early childhood education training program in the Northwest Territories was opened in Arctic College in Iqaluit and was delivered in both English and Inuktitut.

1989 A consultant was hired by the Native Council of Canada to research the specific child care needs of native peoples in the Northwest Territories.

The Interim Day Care program came into force in April.

1993 Child care responsibilities were moved from the Department of Social Services to the Department of Education, Culture and Employment.

1997 The Healthy Children Initiative was launched to provide funding to communities to enhance existing early childhood programs and services for children aged 0-6. In addition, licensing and monitoring was decentralized to five regions. With decentralization and additional staffing, the function of licensing staff moved away from a strictly monitoring role to more of a program development focus.

April 1999 The Territory of Nunavut was created by dividing the NT. Responsibility for all programs in the Eastern Arctic moved to the new territory. Nunavut initially adopted the child care legislation and regulations of the NT.

September 2000 The Children First Secretariat, made up of the Departments of Education, Justice, Health and Social Services, and Culture, Language, Elders and Youth was formed. This committee is designed to facilitate the coordination of programs and services that promote the healthy development and well-being of all children and youth across Nunavut.

2002 Responsibility for child care programs moved from the Early Childhood and School Services Division to the Adult Education, Career and Early Childhood Services Division of the Department of Education. The budget for operating and start up grants was increased by $438,000 or approximately 25%.
RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN CHILD CARE AND OTHER ECEC SERVICES

2003/04 After a period of little or no enrolment in ECE training programs, 63 students graduated from Arctic College with ECE certificates.

2004 The Department of Education began the development of Nunavut-based resources for early childhood programs relevant to local communities. All written materials will be available in the four official languages of the territory.

2003/04 The Nunavut funding allocation through the Multilateral Framework on Early Learning and Child Care was not spent. The plan for the 2004/05 allocation was for child care centre equipment upgrades and for child care fee subsidies for regulated child care for children of teen mothers under the age of 18 attending school. (In Nunavut an individual must be 18 or older in order to receive income support, the vehicle through which child care subsidies are provided.) However, the equipment upgrade grant was not approved, and the approval for the fee subsidies will be for the 2005/06 fiscal year.

2005/06 Effective April 1, 2005 the Young Parents Stay Learning Program came into effect as a program separate from regular subsidy. Parents must be under the age of 18 and attending school. Eligibility does not require a needs test. The parent must use regulated child care. The maximum rates are the same as the regular subsidy rates. The parent’s school attendance records are sent to the Early Childhood Officer along with the child’s attendance records. There is an expectation that the parent will be attending school unless they are ill or have an excused absence. Parents may apply for subsidy in person, by mail or fax.

2005/06 Nunavut received $651,000 through the Early Learning and Child Care Agreement in 2005/06 and $602,000 in 2006/07.

The $651,000 in Federal Early Learning and Child Care funding was given to all operating licensed facilities as a one-time grant. It was to be used for one or more of the following: equipment and toy upgrades/replacements, professional development/staff training, building or playground maintenance/improvements, or nutritional food for children.

Plans for the 2006/07 allocation of $602,000 have not yet been announced.
